Create a PDF document that contains:

-        A detailed description of where each of the criteria is on your site. Anything not listed here may not be counted.

-        An overview of why you chose the theme & Idea for your site.

- Links to any graphics that you used online with releases that says you can use them

- The homepage is located at index.html
- The 2 jQuery effects are:
    - A hover affect that expands the text size and draws attention to the part of the site (right before the footer on: filter.html, about.html, services.html)
    - A toggle effect that displays the navigation bar for new users (located at index.html)
- All Content is created and not lorum ipsum

I have added the 4 required items as listed here:

- An Animated Bar Chart (filter.html, history.html)
- An Interactive Map (locations.html)
- An Interactive Image Gallery (services.html)
- HTML5 Video tag (about.html)

I chose this site because it is something that I have been tinkering with for some time now and this gave me the opportunity to really focus on it and begin to get ideas and concepts out of my brain and onto the screen. It is a website for my girl friends father's air conditioning company. I chose this theme because it really matches the look that "my client" was going for. The blues, whites and yellows just worked well with each other. I chose to use the textured background to give it a little more body and character. The style of the rest just came as I was working on the site and really fit with the overall look and flow.

All images and videos were created by my with the exception of:
fl_map.jpg. It is an NASA image and can be found HERE and used for educational purposes as stated HERE.

Benjamin Thompson